2001 East Street, Woodland

(530) 661-2001

What could be better than piece of mind? Come listen to an interactive and important conversation regarding documents EVERYONE needs to have in place to assure their health choices are followed. Joanne Hatchett, FNP, RN will present on Advance Directive for Healthcare and Physician Orders for Life-Sustaining Treatment, two important documents that allow a patient, medical personnel and family members clear guidelines on a patients choice of treatment in critical times.

Also included will be the Commission on Aging developed "Important Records" packet that will help family members with valuable information in times of crisis. Documents will be available on sight for participants at the workshop.

No pre-registration necessary, this seminar is open to the public.
